Verbal Description:

This semi-triangular-shaped stone is rather ground and polished on one side, rough on the other. It seems the edge marked by "A" was broken, the other edges are rounded and shaped as if it were the original surface. For some reason there seems to be flaking off the edge ~~at~~ marked "B"; there is flaking off both the smooth and the rough, although the majority is on the smooth side. The smooth surface is not totally smooth but has some ~~at~~ undulations in it.
